We're changing the way people look at communications.

Welcome to the U.S. Videotel network.

"I can check and respond to messages at my convenience, 24 hours a day."

Look what happened when U.S. Videotel, Inc. combined the convenience of a telephone with the power of the written word.

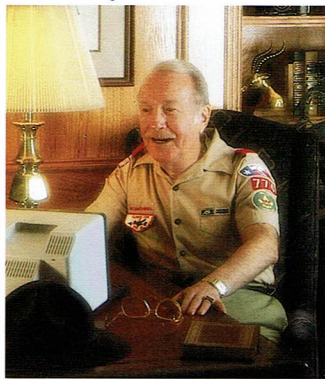

Introducing America's first low-cost, easy-to-use videotex communications and information service. Now everyone can afford the convenience of electronic communications and the time-saving, money-saving benefits of instant information access. Without having to buy computers, software or modems.

When you subscribe to the U.S. Videotel network, you can use your existing telephone line to exchange written communications, access visual information or even transact business. We can even provide the compact, easy-to-use U.S. Videotel access terminal.

Convenient Group Communications 24 Hours a Day

U.S. Videotel is about to add a whole new dimension to your telephone. It's never been so easy to interact with the people in your professional association, organization, business, church or special interest group.

"Electronic bulletin boards keep members posted on upcoming events."

"Electronic mail lets me send instant, written messages to one colleague or 100."

Electronic Mail

Now you can send an instant, electronic message to one or 100 friends and colleagues. U.S. Videotel's electronic mail service is making the writing, sending, retrieval and storage of written messages easier, quicker, cheaper and more dependable than the mail.

Chat Lines

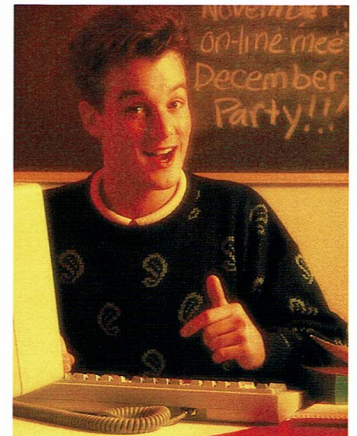

Subscribers can communicate with each other on a wide variety of topics, or start their own special interest Chat Line. A Chat Line is like a CB Simulator or "party line". It allows unlimited interaction, and participation can be anonymous or users can identify themselves.

Electronic Forums

Electronic forums can provide special information and communications for your specific group. You can create forums on the topic of your choice and program them to start at specific times. Participation can be limited by special access codes.

Bulletin Boards

Electronic bulletin boards make it easy to stay advised of upcoming events and opportunities. Activity calendars, notices and newsletters are posted or updated for reading at each member's convenience.

"On-line forums make it easy to network with my club."

Instant access to an expanding world of information services.

People access the network through compact, easy-to-use terminals that plug into ordinary telephone lines, or through access software for personal computers.

When you subscribe to the U.S. Videotel network, you get more than just enhanced communications. You have a full spectrum of local and national information services at your fingertips.

It's never been so easy to get your hands on the information you need, when you need it, 24 hours a day. Take a look at some of the exciting services that are on-line or coming your way soon from U.S. Videotel.
